

Expanding Its Team to Accompany Strong Demand, Conquest Firespray Appoints New Vice President and GM for the Northeast U.S. Region

Luke Connery Will Fill the Role

Warren, MI – April 10, 2019 – Conquest Firespray, a manufacturer of fire-rated architectural and engineered duct systems, today announced the appointment of a new senior manager. Luke Connery will fill the role of Vice President and General Manager for the Northeast U.S. Region, and will report directly to Conquest Firespray’s President and CEO, James Miller.

Mr. Connery’s appointment has been made in order to staff-up to meet the remarkable surge in opportunities that Conquest Firespray is experiencing for its Flamebar® coated HVAC duct systems.

Luke Connery, Conquest Firespray’s new VP and GM for the Northeast U.S. Region.

Mr. Connery brings formidable talents and deep background in the industry to his new role. He has an MBA (from B.U.), an MS in Fire Protection Engineering (from WPI), and a BS in Mechanical Engineering (from WPI). Mr. Connery is widely regarded for his recent work with Johnson Controls \(NYSE: JCI\), including his most-recent position, Americas Director of Business Development, and before that in a number of positions at Tyco Fire Protection Products (Tyco International, NYSE: TYC). His specialty is consultative sales for technical products and helping clients work through the most-challenging, complex problems.
